Read an EVEN Exclusive Interview with

Dale Lugenbehl
Educator, Author, Builder
and

Sandy Aldridge
Environmental Activist, Gardener

Dale and Sandy built their own home and veganically grow most of their food. Additionally they continue to experiment with food preservation that uses as little energy as possible—including an above-ground root cellar, storage of certain crops in the soil, and sun drying. They make extensive use of solar, geothermal, and gravity energy, as well as rainwater catchment systems for garden and orchard irrigation at their Ahimsa Acres homestead outside of Cottage Grove, Oregon. >> Click here to read EVEN's complete interview with Dale and Sandy.
